

A water wheel in City Creek Canyon (above) provided power for industry such as saw and grist mills.